Re: Cashier Vacancy

When Thomas Carlyle said, “No Pressure...no diamonds,” he might have been referring to how a business responds to pressure and meet the demands of its customers, or he might have been referring to how well people like me work under pressure. Having worked for the largest retail business in the world, during the busiest season of the year, I have experienced constant pressure without any negative impact on my efficiency, organization, positive attitude or focus on satisfying customers’ needs. My experiences include:

Money &amp; Math Skills	+ Cashier at Wal-Mart-Cash, EFT, POS- Debit/Credit + Babysitting service – Cash; checks; determining charges + College Algebra Class
Customer Service	+ Cashier at Wal-Mart-Enthusiasm; empathy; efficiency; organization; problem solving skills; positive attitude + Babysitting service – Maturity; follow rules; positive attitude; enthusiastic and energetic; time management
Team Player	+ Cashier at Wal-Mart-Flexibility; helpful; common goals; care and concern + Basketball Team – work well with others; follow plays; listen and follow coach and team captains; positive attitude; common goals; care and concern for others

I am excited about the prospect of being a member of your team and using my skills to help the Real Food Market and Deli become even more successful that it already it. I am available to interview any weekday after 3:15 p.m. and all day on the weekends and can be reached at the numbers listed above. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Samantha Humphrey
